

MCGOVERN SUBMITS HIGHWAY QUESTION TO TOWN MEETINGS

SENDS OUT LIST OF QUESTIONS ON ROAD APPROPRIATION FOR A REFERENDUM.

WILL AWAIT DECISION

Expression of Voters Throughout the State Will Determine Matter of a Special Session.

Madison, April 2.—Governor McGovern has referred the question of highway appropriations directly to the people by referendum, unique in the history of Wisconsin, is made by the governor to the town meetings to be held on Tuesday throughout the state. The governor submits five principal questions in a letter to the town clerks, asking that his letter be read to the people, their opinions secured, and the result promptly reported to him. The letter points out that a special session of the legislature to deal with the problem of appropriations, especially those relating to buildings and to highways, is being considered by the governor. As to the first question, the governor points out that by refusing to sanction any building that was not absolutely necessary by June 30th he will have saved approximately $1,000,000. He has, however, this saving with the cooperation of the boards concerned, as follows: Through the University of Wisconsin, $300,000; through the board of control, $1,700,000; through the normal schools, $175,000.

The five questions submitted, briefly summarized are: Is a cut in highway appropriation favored, and if so, how much? Should the amount due the several towns, if unequalled, be reserved for at least three years instead of being distributed in other towns and counties as at present? Should the provision through which individuals by subscribing certain amounts, can force local appropriations, be repealed? The last two questions deal with the advisability of a constitutional amendment providing for separate appropriation bills, and the wisdom of a legislative rule, in the event a special session is called, requiring every appropriation bill to be submitted in a separate bill. The complete letter of the governor, which is being mailed to the town clerks today, is as follows:

My dear Sir: Under consideration the calling of a special session of the legislature to cut down some of the appropriations made at the regular session, I have thought it best to address to you, through you, a separate bill. Therefore, read this letter to them and inform me what they reply. If any have to make to the questions, I wish to submit to them. Before stating these questions permit me to say that I have always thought the appropriations of the legislature were unnecessarily large. At the time they were made I was in a special message to the legislature, should have vetoed many of the items had I the power to do so without at the same time defeating other necessary appropriations and general legislation included in the same bills.

Attempts to Retrench. To avoid, as far as possible, the evil results reasonably to be expected to flow from these excessive grants of public money, since the legislature adjourned I have pursued a policy of retrenchment by advising the heads of the several state departments, institutions and boards to cut down the charge of administration, wherever I found it necessary to do so. I have declined to approve the expenditure of public money that did not seem to me to be unavoidable. In this way the expenses of the state government have been kept far below the appropriations provided by the last legislature. For example, on June 30th next almost three hundred thousand dollars will have been saved out of the appropriation for new buildings at the state university alone; about $171,000 will be saved from the appropriations made to the board of control for the support of the penal and charitable institutions of the state; approximately $175,000 will be saved out of the appropriations to the normal schools; and so of many another state institution and board. As a result state taxes will be very much lower next year.

But the principal cause of high taxes this year is the recently inaugurated good roads movement; and this subject does not lend itself so readily to the same sort of treatment. In a measure it is beyond my control. State taxes levied for this purpose have increased from $350,000 in 1912 to $1,650,000 in 1913. Thus the increase is almost fivefold. More over, for each dollar levied by the state the counties are required to contribute another dollar and the towns still another. So the total burden is almost $4,500,000 on all available for highway construction and improvement this year.

Need People's Guidance. If there is to be either a reduction in expenditure or a change of policy it must be brought about through cooperation with the people of the towns and counties and with their consent. Besides, if a special session of the legislature should be called I will mean merely the re-assembly of the men who passed the present highway appropriation law less than a year ago with only seven opposing votes in both houses. If they again call together, the question is, is it possible, have for their guidance, clear and unequivocal mandate from the people as to what action they should take. The annual town meeting is an appropriate occasion to consider and determine this. I shall be greatly obliged to you, therefore, if you will submit the following questions to the people assembled at your town meeting on Tuesday and advise me of their answers.

1. Are you in favor of reducing the state appropriation for highway aid? If so, how much?

2. Many towns do not apply for the share of state aid to which they are entitled. Are you in favor of reserving in the state treasury for a limited period (say three years) the amount of state aid to which each town would be entitled if it applied for the same at once, so that every district may receive its proper proportion of the highway fund which it helped to create?

3. Are you in favor of repealing the portion of the present law which permits automobile and other private organizations by the deposit of a certain amount of money, to force towns to maintain a highway? If so, how much?

4. Are you in favor of an amendment to the constitution which will give the governor the power to veto bad items in an appropriation bill, without being compelled to disapprove the bill as a whole?

5. Should a special session be called, are you in favor of a legislative rule that will give the governor the power to veto any appropriation bill which is not submitted in a separate bill?

I am sending a similar letter to all the town clerks in the state to read at the approaching town meeting. Please advise me at your earliest convenience of the action of the people in your town. Very truly yours, Signed by the Governor.

Steamer Southern Cross Caught in Ice Floe and Fifty of Crew of 170 Die From Exposure—Many More Missing.

St. Johns, Newfoundland, April 2.—The S. S. Newfoundland came into port today with a story of disaster to the sealing steamer Southern Cross and her crew of 170 men. The exact loss of life is not known, but it is believed that practically the entire crew perished after the Southern Cross had been crushed and sunk in the St. George's Bay.

The Newfoundland picked up fifty of the crew, the greater number already dead, and others dying from the passing ice floes to which they escaped when their craft went down.

Earlier Report. St. Johns, Newfoundland, April 2.—Disaster has overtaken the sealing steamer Southern Cross and her crew of 170 men. Fifty of the men have been rescued from exposure in a furious blizzard today. The steamer Southern Cross was caught in the ice floes for thirty-eight hours, suffering terribly. Many of them still are missing, and others are being searched for. Of those brought in by the Newfoundland, fifty were either dead or dying when the ship reached port.

Schooners Collide. Washington, April 2.—Rear Admiral Badger, commanding the Atlantic fleet off the Virginia capes, reported today that the steamer Robert M. Official Word. The sealing steamer Newfoundland has been crushed in the ice just south of Belle Isle Strait, and the greater part of her crew of 150 men are believed to have perished. Steamers in the vicinity picked up several bodies and a few of the crew who had survived on the ice floes to which they escaped when their vessel went down.

Fifty of the crew have been accounted for in this manner. Most of them were dead when discovered, and several others were dying. Great alarm is also felt for the sealing steamer Southern Cross which also is believed to have been caught in the ice. The first report received here was that a part of the crew of the Southern Cross that had been picked up and that they were being brought into port by the Newfoundland. There are 150 men on board the Southern Cross, and she was due here today.

The storm that has raged over Newfoundland for three days continued unabated today and the telegraphic service to points along the coast has suffered.

Later Report. Curling, Newfoundland, April 2.—Reports received here today state that the sealing steamer Newfoundland was cut off her crew of 170 men, and that it was a matter of time before the Southern Cross, reported in trouble in the same vicinity Tuesday, rescue ships have picked up fifty bodies of the crew of the Newfoundland.

There was no life lost, but numbers of guests in the hotels were forced to use scantily clad into the streets, while others were carried down ladders by firemen and volunteers. A company of state militia helped to preserve order and prevented looting.

Woman Fatally Hurt. An unidentified woman, who hurried herself from the third story of the Florida house, suffered a broken back. She probably was fatally hurt. Several other persons sustained minor injuries.

The hotels destroyed were the Florida House, Munson House, Claimont Hotel, Central Hotel and Atlantic Hotel. The Genovar Opera House, the Power Boat Club house, nine residences and several other buildings were burned. The Voder House, one of the oldest buildings on the continent, containing priceless relics of the Spanish period, was destroyed.

Starting at 1 o'clock on the second floor of the Florida House the fire raged for four hours through an area that had been one of the city's show places. The frame buildings burned like tinder. A detachment of firemen were sent from Jacksonville, and with several buildings in the flames' path were saved from destruction. Among their help and that of local volunteers them was the Magnolia House and the new Fraternal Building.

The origin of the fire had not been explained this afternoon. Blaze Threatens City. Nearly two blocks near the waterfront were destroyed. For a time the business section was endangered, but the flames were checked by local firemen and a section of the Jacksonville fire department, which arrived on a special train shortly before daylight.

The fire originated in the kitchen of the Florida, a large wooden structure, and spread rapidly. The first alarm was turned in at 1 o'clock. Firemen first turned their attention to rescuing guests at the Florida, many of whom were carried down ladders. Occupants of the other hotels were warned of their danger and many fled into the street without any attempt to save their personal belongings.

OLD DOG REJOINS MASTER

Faithfulness of Dumb Animal Won Appreciation That Took the Form of Practical Assistance.

Although every one pitied him and wanted to be kind to him and there was not a home in the town that would not have been glad to take him in and keep him, Bruce, a shepherd dog, wandered disconsolately about the streets of an Arkansas town. He was pining for the only master he had ever known. For fifteen years he had had all that a dog wants—a good home and somebody to love continuously, and now that his old master had gone away to California he was broken-hearted. Perhaps, too, he grieved over his master's fallen fortunes and the fact that he had failed in business and had been compelled to remove to another place. Surely it was a hard fate that parted an ever-faithful dog from his life-long friend.

But kind eyes and sympathetic hearts noted the old dog as he tramped wearily around the town, seeking the one who was all the world to him and refusing to attach himself to any other.

Touched by the dog's misery, some one proposed that a collection be taken to send Bruce to California to his master. The suggestion met with enthusiastic approval. The hat was passed and it required but a few minutes to secure enough money.

One of the old dog's friends made a crate, furnished it with enough food to last him a week, and Bruce was started on his long journey to rejoin his master.

And now, in the town where Bruce lived so long, they miss their old favorite; but a warm glow comes over the heart when some one remarks about the happiness that must have come to the faithful old fellow when he found his master.

SCIENCE NOTES

A great demand has recently sprung up in France for nicotine for use in the vineyards, where it is utilized in the shape of a spraying solution to kill off insect life, in which capacity it has been found to be particularly efficacious. As every planter of the vineyard has in the hands of the government, the nicotine solution was formerly difficult to get, but recently, in response to the great demand for it, the government has made some regulations which greatly facilitate the traffic in nicotine. It is now on sale at all tobacco dispensaries.

The olive oil industry of California is undergoing a change by reason of the fact that the growers now find it more profitable to cultivate the fruit for itself rather than the oil as heretofore. They are now endeavoring to increase the size of the olive rather than to produce quantity and these large olives find ready sale in preference to the former. In this respect the American growers have an advantage over those of Europe for the foreign fruit does not mature properly to make ripe pickles, and when designed for pickling, is pulled some time before it is really ripe.

In the course of the next five years it will be necessary for the city of New York to install 15,000 new fire alarm boxes and in this connection the statement is made that a great many of the boxes now in use are so antiquated and in such poor condition as to be not only questionable but a source of danger and a menace to the community. These boxes have cost heretofore from $75 to $175 each, the average being about $125, but there has been recently patented by two members of the city fire alarm department of their city a fire alarm box which has many superlatives over those now in use, and it is said that these may be made at a cost of not more than $45. This apparatus has been dedicated to the use of the city of New York without royalty and the amount of money saved by the municipality in the adoption of these boxes will amount to more than $1,000,000.

In some of the Asiatic countries the rat problem is more serious than in this country. This is true of Java, where it occasionally happens that families are driven from their homes by the rodents. A member of the Dutch agricultural bureau reports a real success in rat killing. He tried the modern method of giving a contagious disease to one rat in the hope that it would die. This proved useless. Finally, de Kroyff hit upon a novel use of carbon disulphide. All visible rat holes were first stopped with earth to ascertain which holes were inhabited, for the gas is heavier than air. Then a few drops of these holes and, after waiting a few seconds to allow the liquid to evaporate, the mixture of vapor and air was ignited. The resulting small explosion filled the hole with poisonous gases and killed all the rats almost instantly.

MAY HAVE TO FIGHT FOR NIECE'S WEALTH

James K. Hackett.

James K. Hackett, the actor who has figured in many a mimic battle for kingdoms and things like that, on the stage, may soon find himself in a real life legal battle for something worth as much as some kingdoms—namely, about $1,500,000 of the $2,600,000 fortune of his niece, Mrs. Minnie Hackett Thowbridge, who died recently.

Unless a fight is made by other heirs, the greater part of Mrs. Thowbridge's estate goes to Hackett, as nearest of kin, even though his niece hated him. Two or three other heirs are now thinking seriously of making a fight on the ground that a will made while Mrs. Thowbridge was mentally incompetent, but during a lucid interval, should be permitted to stand.

NOTORIOUS "DEATH CORNER" IN CHICAGO SCENE OF MANY CRIMES

"Death Corner," Oak and Milton streets, Chicago.

Bloody "Death Corner" in the heart of Chicago's "Little Italy," notorious as the scene of nearly a score of murders, bomb outrages and blackhand crimes in the last year and a half, claimed two more victims last Friday. The victims were Sullians, said to be leaders of the Mafia. The instrument invariably used at "Death Corner" is a sawed-off shotgun. Most of the deaths remain unsolved by the police, but revenge was generally credited as the motive.

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Friday. Slightly cooler. Gentle breeze mostly north-west.

TOO LATE.

It is too late to start a movement to stem the tide of public opinion on the taxation question. This wave of repentance that has caused the state officials and members of the legislature to petition Governor McGovern to call a special session of the legislature to undo some of the unfortunate blunders they enacted into laws that they may perhaps save their political heads, comes too late.

Suppose the governor does call a special session? Will it not be composed of the same men who composed the old legislature? It scarcely will be possible to conceive that these men will be in a mood to admit they did wrong and now attempt to modify their own extravagance, dam their own past conduct by crawling out of the dilemma. The fact is, the republican party of Wisconsin is facing a political crisis, a revolution of the rank and file that no confessions, no recantations, no condemnation of itself can possibly avert the overthrow of the present regime by a non-partisan movement.

The Madison Democrat says that what this last legislature did in the way of expenditures was the mere culmination of a series of years of wastefulness—of high living in state affairs. The people are weary to the very heart with the disastrous results. They have shown their indignation in many places by county conventions of bitter protest. The farmers are up in arms, and nothing can satisfy them but a complete change of government.

It is coming. Nothing can stop it. The die is cast. Confession is good for the soul but it cannot mollify a people who have had load after load burdened upon them till their endurance has finally broken. Any possible remission of threatened taxes that a special session of the legislature could make might be helpful, but it will not satisfy, nor will it give to the people that confidence in the future which can only be established by bringing into authority that element of our citizenship which believes in greater economy and greater conservatism.

It will be interesting just at this time to note the cost of the 1913 legislature while stopping to consider what they accomplished. The following figures tell a story all their own:

Senate salaries and mileage	$17,533.30
Assembly salaries and mileage	54,087.94
Senate, chief clerk department	19,410.00
Senate, sergeant-at-arms	9,987.00
Assembly, chief clerk	26,424.00
Assembly, sergeant-at-arms	14,265.00
Contested seat	500.00
Joint finance committee	5,492.42
Visiting committee	233.44
Printing, including session	10,000.00

Postage 3,224.32
Witness fees 34.60
Stationery 625.12
Telephone, telegraph, etc. 30.67
Chaplains 840.00

Total.....$194,787.23
And now they admit that they were in the wrong and like the coon and Davy Crockett, are yelling, "Don't shoot! I'll come down."

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

The Christian Science Monitor sees a great opportunity for Mr. Redmond in the present English crisis. It says: "Never since the days when the Jacobites were toasting the king over the water has the United Kingdom been in such a pass as it is today. For the first time since the great cleavage which resulted in the final rush of the clans at Culloden the country is divided into camps which talk openly of civil war. The unhappy little rebellion of '98 was the mere rising of a handful of peasants against a nation. Today 110,000 armed and drilled men, thoroughly equipped and ready for any emergency, are bidding defiance in Ulster to the government of the country. The whole of one of the great historic parties of the state is vehemently and unhesitatingly committed to the support of the rebels, whilst it is recognized that neither the army nor the navy can be relied upon to obey the government.

"On the other side stands the Liberal party, forced forward by its own radical wing and subject to the demand for drastic measure from the Irish Nationalists and the Labor rank and file. For the first time, apparently, the ministerial chiefs are beginning to realize the effect of their Draconian sternness to a band of feeble window smashers and their futile leniency to the men who have raised and equipped an army in Ulster. What three years ago might have been a matter of police is today armed rebellion with the certain prospect that even if the rebels are eventually completely crushed, Ireland will renew its history under its own parliament with a legacy of civil and religious animosity, the effect of which it would be difficult to estimate.

"It is all very well for the Unionists to claim that the army has killed home rule, but that will not pacify the south or make for a united country. It is equally all very well for the coalition to appeal to the rights of parliament against the sword. Such a cry has not been heard since the time of Cromwell and it is not easily possible to discuss the matter even now, with the evidence in a state so incomplete as it is. An appeal to the country, however, against the army at the present moment, would merely be an appeal to almost uncontrolled party passions and could only end in producing in Great Britain a condition of things perilously near that which exists in Ulster. What the country needs is obviously not the passions which manifested themselves on Wednesday in the House of Commons, but the coolheadedness and single-mindedness of men who are prepared to forego something of what they consider their rights for the sake of their country. An enormous opportunity lies in the hands of Mr. Redmond. It may be unfair to place the responsibility of a decision on him, but it happens that he, perhaps, if the one man who could say the word which would prevent a conflagration. If he would consent to the exclusion of Ulster until such a time as a federal scheme of government would be passed he might possibly find that he would not have to wait even for that event in order to have the satisfaction of seeing his country united."

"A HILL BILLIE."

"Speaker Clark gave an unworthy exhibition of himself in his speech on the toll exemption repeal bill, and that notwithstanding the fact that he confessed his appreciation of the need for a reasoning treatment of the issue. "In spite of this, Mr. Clark presented himself as the passionate hill billie, and it may astonish a good many Americans to learn that a man of this character is in high position. "Mr. Clark melodramatically considered the possibility that his political future was being sacrificed for the policy his conscience forced him to adopt. He might more reasonably have been concerned for his reputation, which with difficulty will survive this exhibition, and cannot possibly survive many others like it. "Mr. Clark had an argument to make for toll exemption, and showed that he knew how to make it. Had he confined himself to this he would have preserved the respect of the men who oppose him in his present course. His arguments were answerable, but they might have been made by a man sincerely convinced of the justice and equity of his position and at no sacrifice of political future."

That is the way the Chicago Tribune characterizes Champ Clark's speech in congress against the repeal of the Panama Canal Toll bill.

It expresses the strong perhaps but it expresses the sentiment of a lot of people who are not interested in the coastwise ship trade or the transcontinental railroads.

J. T. Hooper's candidacy for the office of school commissioner at large has created almost as much discussion as is the selection of a new commissioner. All admit that Mr. Hooper is well qualified for the office his friends have urged him to run for and if this be true why not vote for him?

Next Tuesday is election day and every voter in the city should appoint themselves committee of one to be at the polls and cast their ballot as they think best. Important issues are at stake and must be decided by the voters.

On the Spur of the Moment

I'd like to be a diplomat and live in foreign climes. For diplomats are made much of and have some glorious times. A diplomat is always sought by politicians and kings. They hang him full of medals and a number of such things.

The Diplomat.

black look just like white. He talks about a wrong until you really think it's right. His language is so polished that it slips off from his tongue. So readily that you believe the song that he has sung.

He calls a man a liar, but his way gives no offense. He makes the other party think hard names are compliments. He is a master in the art of gentle subterfuge. He has a nerve colossal and vocabulary huge. But still I know that I will never be a diplomat. I'm too much of a roughneck, I'm too sure of that.

For I have tried it many times and can't, to save my life. Fake up an explanation that will even fool my wife.

A Boon to Mankind.

All through this tiresome and tedious winter we have been at work upon a handy little invention which will be a boon to mankind. It is nothing more nor less than a patent fly swatter. Last year we conducted a fly swatting campaign, which did not pan out as many flies as it might have done, for the reason that the swatters at hand did not come up to the requirements of the occasion. The new swatter has all of the requirements of a first-class invention. Among other things, it will not splash the soap all over the wall and the vest of the man who swats when he attempts to swat a fly which has settled in the soup or gravy bowl.

It will not strike with sufficient force to break a $50 plate glass mirror, but deals gently though surely. It is an absolutely cussless swatter, for it always does the work the first time and does not cause any household to lose his temper. It is humane and strikes the fly in a vulnerable spot, causing instant death to the fly instead of prolonging agony.

It will kill 567 flies at one time if the flies will only hold still and be killed. It will not knock any fancy bric-a-brac off the mantel. We are organizing a stock company to manufacture this handy little article and further particulars will be announced later.

Down in Mexico the rebel glee club is tuning up with this: "While yet the alcohol holds out, Huerta will be lit, no doubt. Governor Cole Blease will soon put himself out of the pardoning business. There are only three or four more cowards left in the prison. Mexico is shipping tainted meat into the United States, but we could stand that if she would only keep her refugees at home."

Eve Gowns.

When Eve Adam's wife had to have a new gown. Their system beat ours a mile. The high cost of fabrics never gave them cold feet. And no dressmaker's fee froze their smile.

They just took a stroll 'mongst the vines and the shrubs. On the fig trees that grew in the thickets. And when Eve found the garment that suited her best. Her hubby would shin' up and pick it.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

HARD PLOWING.

Tell 'em I didn't like "fisher of men" as well as "th' plowman." It's aisy 't catch him fish; it's hard to plow up ignorance an' superstition.—From "My Lady of the Chimney Corner," a new book by Alexander Irvine.

So runs a bit of sound philosophy, expressed in simple English. Ignorance and superstition grow in stony soil, and the plow has hard work in rooting them up. And more—it is hard to induce proper crops to grow after they are removed.

Often the uprooting of rocks leaves behind sterile soil. Something may be done with it, if the right sort of fertilizer be applied in proper quantities, but it is never so good as the mental seed bed in which the rocks of wrong thinking never had places.

Does it not seem sometimes as if the obstructions in the way of the plow would never be removed?

When we read of brutality in Russia or the Congo, when we hear of men in the cities deliberately and, for gain, overworking women and children, when we read of a keeper of convicts in a southern state flogging men to death, truly the soil of the world and the heart of man seem equally hard and rocky.

The plow moves, but it moves so slowly. The rocks dull the edge of the plowshare of progress and threaten to destroy it altogether. The soil is terribly stony.

But, nevertheless, the plow moves. It is held in the steady hands of the men and women who know that the world advances slowly but surely in the paths of peaceful progress and that human nature is sometimes uneven and rocky.

Do your share to remove the rocks. Every one can do something, however little, with voice or pen or arm, to plow up the stones of ignorance and superstition. Every one should have his "pot" of attack—whether it be local, state or national. Despite the progress of the world the evils lie all around us. No thinking man or woman needs to have them pointed out.

The old proverb says, "He that by the plow would thrive himself must either hold or drive."

And he that would prosper by the removal of the rocks of ignorance and superstition should do something to help in the uplift.

Otherwise he stands to profit without merit of his own.

HE WAGES WAR ON IRISH HOME RULE

Andrew Bonar Law.

Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the opposition in the English house of commons, has been waging an incessant war against home rule for Ireland. So heated had the fight become that Law, after introducing a vote of censure on the British government, summoned Arthur K. Balfour from the Riviera to participate in the division. The vote of censure was defeated, 345 to 252.

To Remove Mildew.

Mildew is best removed by dipping the goods into a weak solution of chloride of lime, then placing the garment in the sun for a few minutes, after which rinse thoroughly. A heaping teaspoonful of lime to a quart of water is about the right proportion.

Frenchwoman's Cold Cure.

Having been without a cold for 27 years, a French lady, who holds this fortunate record, attributes it to the following process. Each morning after taking a warm bath, she immediately sponges her throat, her face, and the back of her neck and ears with the very coldest water she can get for about two minutes. In cold weather one may feel inclined to shirk, she says, but the result of steady application she has found a plentiful reward.

Economy in the Home.

In keeping house it is quite as necessary to watch the outgoing as the incoming. Not the tiniest scrap of food need be wasted as long as it is good. It is wonderful what a nice pot of drippings can be kept on hand if all fat is taken care of. Sauces, too, can be often utilized in making over dishes, to give flavor or zest when lacking, as well as an addition to the soup kettle.

A Grand Sight

Just now the Big Store is receiving many bouquets on its general beautiful appearance. Several have told us that the store never looked prettier. The windows are attracting much well merited attention and many think them equal, if not ahead, of any previous showing. It takes ability to put in such windows and we feel that our trimmer has just reason to feel proud of them. The Opening and Style Show is an event that means much labor and expense and that our efforts are appreciated is very gratifying. Come tomorrow and enjoy the beauty of the displays throughout the store.

Sadie White

And lady-like; but Sadie White
Is hardly lady-like—a lady
Would not stick out her tongue, like Sadie!
When Sadie shows her hate that way
She is a Goop—so I should say.

SPANISH WAR WIDOWS TO RECEIVE PENSION

Bill Which Passed House in Washington Gets Through Senate Without Change.

Janesville veterans of the Spanish war will read with interest that children of the officers and men who served in the Spanish war, the Philippine insurrection, and the Boxer uprising in China would be authorized by a bill which passed the house late on Wednesday by a vote of 276 to 64.

The bill would grant $12 monthly to the widow of an honorably discharged soldier or sailor and $2 monthly for each child under 16 years of age, provided that the widow shall have married at soldier's price the passage of the bill. The pensions are to be limited, however, to widows without means of support other than their daily labor and an actual net income not exceeding $250 a year.

An inquiry among the camps of the United Spanish War Veterans indicated there were about 4,000 widows of men who served in the Spanish war and the Philippine insurrection. It is estimated that an appropriation of $2,500,000 will be required to pay the pensions.

Miller was arrested for creating a disturbance in a cafe and pleading guilty to the charge of drunkenness, explaining to the court that he had been working in a dry town for the past two months and on leaving played an April fool joke on himself and got drunk. Wenck also pleaded guilty and they were paroled out by Sheriff Wappler this afternoon.

NATIONAL MANUEVER CAMP TO BE STARTED AT SPARTA

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison, April 2.—The establishment of a national maneuver camp near Sparta is a possibility if congressional passes the army and navy appropriation bill of about $1,500,000. The camp would be the assembling place of the "national guard" from Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin, and would probably continue for ten days during July or August.

Col. John G. Salsman in the department of the adjutant general says nothing, however, as everything depends upon what action congress takes.

ENFORCING THE LAW IS A HEAVY BURDEN

But the Deputy Sheriff Weather's the Storm and Continues His Journey of Justice.

When the law meets the law, then there comes a tug of war. At least so Officer Albright thought last evening when he undertook to arrest a man plainly under the influence of liquor, near the C. M. and St. P. railway depot. The suspect objected strenuously to being taken into custody and when he was about half way down to the lock-up, produced warrants from his pockets which he insisted that he must serve this morning. When the smoke of battle cleared away it was found that the victim was a deputy sheriff of one of our neighboring counties. He was placed in the train for home and hopes are entertained that he was in a fit condition to carry out the duties of his office with proper dignity this morning.

JANESVILLE SEES MINNEAPOLIS FIRST

PAYS TO SHOW APPRECIATION

Results of Experiments Made in Broad-Minded Way Have Been More Than Gratifying.

The pride that most men of whatever station take in their work can be utilized by making each worker feel that he is an efficiency engineer in his own sphere. If he is made to understand that the problem of efficiency is not a matter of abstruse calculation and lengthy red tape, but a simple process of obtaining the greatest results with the least effort, he is bound to be interested. If the expert poses, not as a dictator, but rather as a teacher—and proves his ability for the role—the men, nine times out of ten, will respond.

Another feature of this get-together type of proceeding that is important, is the giving of credit for good ideas to the originator. I recall a case in point, where the problem happened to be the designing of a simple system of cards to cover a complicated series of operations. A shipping clerk, whose interest had been aroused, offered a suggestion which resulted in cutting down the number of cards to be made out for one department two-thirds. It was customary to print in small letters on all the forms "Designed by the B. V. Co." On these particular cards the man in charge of the work substituted "Designed by A. N. K."—the initials of the shipping clerk. The latter, greatly pleased by this evidence of appreciation, at once set to work evolving other ideas, many of which were sound and well worth adopting. Naturally, the incident became noised about in the shop and served to convince the men of the broad-minded attitude of the expert—Engineering Magazine.

WILL MILLIONAIRES NOTICE

Not from the standpoint of the money saved, but because I can make your safety razor blades sharper (I repeat sharper) than new, is the reason you should bring them to Smith's Drug Store and let me put a new edge on them. Double edge 35c dozen. Single edge 25c dozen.

WANTS TO BE U. S. SENATOR FROM OHIO

HIGHWAYS TO NEED ATTENTION AT ONCE

Commissioner Moore Advises Use of Road Drags as Soon as Conditions Will Permit.

Highways throughout the county will need immediate attention according to County Highway Commissioner C. E. Moore, who urges town chairmen and road inspectors to have the county roads as well as other highways gone over with road drags as early as conditions will permit.

The past week of wet weather, during which there has been no wind or sun to dry the roads, has worked havoc in all sections. In most cases the county highways have stood the test in excellent shape unless they are badly in need of repair, but nearly all roads have been rutted and will need considerable work, the sooner the better.

Automobile repair men are cognizant of the fact that the roads have been exceedingly muddy as they have been called out repeatedly to pull some unfortunate autoists out of the mire. This predicament has not in every case been outside of the city limits it is said.

Valuable Tungsten.

Two pounds of tungsten will furnish material for filaments for about 50,000 electric bulbs, for each filament is only one-twelve-hundredth of an inch in diameter. The current passing through the filament heats it to an incredible degree until it is almost white hot, producing a mellow, clear light of great brilliancy.

CAPE TO CAIRO BY RAIL IN TWO YEARS

All but 688 miles of the rails of the Cape-to-Cairo railway in Africa have now been laid, and in two years, if present progress is continued, this wonderful dream of the late Cecil Rhodes will have "come true," and travelers will be able to proceed uninterrupted from Alexandria, on the Mediterranean, to Capetown, at the southern extremity of the "Dark Continent."

SODA SWEETENS ACID STOMACHS, ENDS DYSPEPSIA

When we eructate our food, acid fluids and we belch gases it doesn't mean the stomach is lacking in digestive juices, says a noted authority who states that nearly all stomach distress and indigestion is a result of acidity; meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the digestive organs. This irritating acid retards digestion and promotes food fermentation. Then everything eaten sours in the stomach like garbage sours in a can, forming gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, producing a heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest or we eructate food, constantly belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, bloating, water-brash and nausea.

He tells us to get a package of 10 grain Sodagen tablets at any pharmacy and take one tablet anytime followed by a tumbler of water. This will instantly neutralize acidity, stop fermentation, absorb the gases and sweeten the entire digestive system. A well-known local druggist says these 10 grain Sodagen tablets are an old favorite Antacid used by thousands of men and women because of their harmless nature, being composed of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. WIFE OF NEW CURRENCY COMPTROLLER

Mrs. John Skelton Williams

Mrs. John Skelton Williams, wife of the new comptroller of the currency, is one of the most attractive women the administration has brought to Washington. She occupied a prominent place while her husband was assistant secretary of the treasury, but now that he has been appointed to his new position, which carries with it a place on the federal reserve board, she has become one of the most important women in the national capital.

She Knew the Game. "Now, children," said the teacher to the junior class in arithmetic, "if I had nine yards of cloth and used five to make a skirt and three to make a jacket, what would I have left?" "A lot of scraps," promptly answered the little girl at the foot.

Ready for action with the new French machine gun. When Uncle Sam sends troops to the Mexican border line, he isn't going to take chances with American lives. If the troops cross the famous river there is going to be some quick work done. For the first time there will be brought into actual use the new French machine gun. This new war weapon is a wonder. It is not much larger than the ordinary rifle carried by each soldier, yet this gun is capable of wiping out an entire regiment in three minutes.

ALCOHOL

Crime! Poverty! Insanity!

WHY? WHY? WHY?

The annual "drink bill" of the United States cannot be actually counted even on the financial side, but the percentage of social wreckage in crime, poverty and insanity is more easily reached. On a conservative estimate the financial cost is enormous, running far beyond a billion dollars. The use of liquor yields an enormous fruitage in crime judging from the reports of those competent to speak with authority on the subject.

Judge Tipton of Bloomington, Ill., in stating that he had sent 250 men to the penitentiary expressed the belief that "all of them were sent there because of drink."

Dr. Elisha Harris, Secretary of the State Prison Association of New York, affirms that "85% of the criminals in that state had been prepared to do their crimes under the inspiration of drink."

The Cook Co., Ill., Grand Jury reports "95% of all criminal cases directly due to liquor."

Dr. Carroll D. Wright, former Labor Commissioner of the United States, after studying the statistics of the whole country for years reached the conclusion that "92% of our crime is the result of intoxicating liquor."

The International Prison Congress reports that "87% of all crime is due to the influence of alcoholism."

Chief of Police Bargren of Rockford, affirms that "Under the 'Dry Regime' conditions are generally better, there is less crime, we have no wife beating, and troubles between married people are infrequent. When the saloons were here many workmen were arrested after pay-night. Now we have almost no 'dinner pails' among our charges."

The most dastardly crime committed in Janesville in recent years was caused directly by drink.

Due to Strong Drink In the U. S.

- (A)—5,000 suicides annually.
- (B)—3,000 wives murdered annually.
- (C)—3,000 infants smothered to death by drunken parents.

- (D)—70,000 young girls ruined annually.
- (E)—100,000 begin life of crime.
- (F)—100,000 mental wrecks caused annually.
- (G)—100,000 dying drunkards annually.

Besides this enormous fruitage in crime due to the saloon, it holds the leading place among home-destroying forces. Warner, the great authority on American Charities, declares that "32% of the poverty is caused by intemperance. The individual study of groups of 30,000 revealed the fact intemperance ranked as the greatest of all causes, running as high as 80%." Intemperance he found to be the chief cause of filling up our Alms Houses, and 55% of the unemployed and homeless poor were brought to that condition by intemperance. Dr. Edwin T. Devine, General Secretary of the Charity Organization of New York says that "It is a conservative estimate that one-fourth of all the cases of destitution with which private agencies have to deal are directly attributable to intemperance."

Would that crime and poverty were the only evils traceable to the influence of the saloon. Beyond them there is insanity concerning which a legislative commission of the State of Pennsylvania in 1911 on Mental Deficiency reported as follows: "From its investigation this committee feels warranted in making the declaration that alcoholism next to heredity is the most prominent contributing cause in producing MENTAL DEFECT, DEGENERATION and DISEASE."

Dr. Rosanoff of Clark University concludes that "25%, or the insanity of 48,605 persons could be made chargeable to the use of alcohol by themselves or others; and that the cost of taking care of these insane is $5,500,000 annually."

In nine "Dry" states 118.8 persons per 100,000 are reported insane, while in thirteen "Wet" states, including Wisconsin, 242.3 per 100,000 are reported insane.

Ten license states with 22,000,000 population report 61,600 insane, while nine dry or no-license states with 15,000,000 population report only 17,500 insane.

A MOVING PICTURE SPECIAL

Myers Theatre, Friday Evening, April 3

A Moving Picture Special of the "Druggists' National Home," Park and Springs at Palmyra, Wis. Also the great Aretina Spring conceded by all Spring experts to be the most wonderful spring in the world. It is 35 ft. deep and 50 ft. in circumference, flowing 10,000,000 barrels of pure crystal water in 24 hours. This film picture was taken thru 25 ft. of water. The gushing and boiling of the bottom is very realistic, in fact, it is a mystery to the film world. The picture of the Spring alone is worth five times the price of your admission.

In addition we will run a true Indian Legend of Minnawawa or Devil's Lake, Wis. This motion picture film will without doubt be the most interesting Indian story ever shown in Janesville and no man, woman or child should miss this rare treat for several reasons. First because it is extremely educational in so far as showing what a wilderness the great state of Wisconsin was 250 years ago. This historic Indian tragedy occurred at the time that Pierre Marquette explored the Wisconsin and Mississippi rivers. 2nd, because it is the first and only motion picture of a true story ever taken on the exact spot where the things really happened and is the first Indian drama ever taken in Wisconsin. The scenery will be recognized by thousands who have seen the beautiful tranquil lake set in the mountains. The scenery around the lake can hardly be equalled in the world. 3rd, because it is a true story. Not the imagination of some writer. The film carries the story from beginning to end so plainly and vividly that while watching the scenes unfold you almost think you are back in the wilderness yourself instead of in a comfortable theater.

A synopsis of the story is as follows: Pierre Marquette, with his little band which risked their lives to penetrate into the wilderness of Wisconsin, was on their way down the Wisconsin river. Running short of provisions they landed on the bank of the river near what is known now as the village of Merrimac. Among their number was a young stalwart Frenchman, brave as a lion yet gentle in manner and actions. His companions had nicknamed him Pierrot the happy. Pierrot was set out to hunt venison for the party and after several hours he was unable to find his way back to his companions, and at last wandered to the summit of the mountains or hills. He looked down hundreds of feet to the beautiful lake. Tired and thirsty he started downward to the lake. He had reached within 100 ft. of the level of the lake when a loose stone caused him to lose his balance and he was thrown down several feet among the boulders and severely injured. His cries of agony reached the ears of Minnawawa, daughter of a Dark Sun. Minnawawa was very beautiful and but few of her white sisters today can compare with her. Minnawawa had never seen a white man in her life and his cries startled her. But like a young panther she ran over the rocks to Pierrot's side just as he was giving up all hope. Dipping water from her pouch on his forehead and pouring some between his lips revived him. Minnawawa helped him to her father's wigwam and there nursed him back to health. But while doing so she fell deeply in love with him and Pierrot learned to love her in return. They spent many happy hours climbing the mountains and rowing their canoes on the lakes. Mountain Lion, a stalwart young Indian, was also in love with Minnawawa, but his love found no place in the heart of Minnawawa. He often followed them with revenge in his heart, and at last he resolved to go to her father and ask for her hand but hardly had arrived at Dark Sun's wigwam when Pierrot arrived for the same purpose. Chief Dark Sun was at a loss what to do. At last he resolved to give her to the most deserving. Rising to his feet he pointed across the lake to Eagle Craig which loomed up several hundred feet straight as a wall above the lake. "and said who first brings me an eagle from yonder crag shall have my daughter, Minnawawa, my heart, my life." Both men sprang for the terrible race. Each spurred on by the thought of the inestimable prize that would come to the winner. Mountain Lion crossed the lake in his canoe while Pierrot went around the lake on foot. Both reached the crag almost at the same time, but Pierrot much the better climber gained rapidly on the terrible climb up the wall. He reached the Eagle's nest, procured the young eagle and started down the wall. Mountain Lion saw he had lost and his ferocious nature got the best of him. Hanging on a narrow ledge he waited for Pierrot, and unsuspecting, Pierrot started to scale the ledge when he was caught from behind by Mountain Lion and hurled to his death on the rocks 300 feet below. Mountain Lion then went to his mangled body and took the eagle and went back to the Indian village and claimed Minnawawa as his reward, saying Pierrot had fallen and was killed.

Dark Sun thinking she had been fairly won, gave her to Mountain Lion. Broken hearted, Minnawawa left the wigwam and followed the same course her white lover had traveled a few hours before. She went to Eagle-Craig and in a roundabout way gained the narrow ledge. Looking over she saw her dead lover lying on the rocks below. With a despairing cry she leaped off the ledge seeking death with her white lover, that she might meet him in the happy hunting ground. Their graves can still be seen near the base of Eagle-Craig, near the spot where they met their tragic deaths, but the story can only be appreciated by seeing it.

Two performances, 7:30 and 9:00 o'clock. The proceeds from the entertainment go to the Druggists' National Home, Palmyra, Wis. Tickets on sale at all drug stores and at the box office, Myers Theater. 25c each.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"BOSS" OR "BOSSSED?"

HERE are two kinds of people in the world—the people who "boss" and the people who are "bossed." Those who "boss" hold the more enviable position, they are the favored of fortune—at least so the "bossed" in too many instances, sincerely believe.

Look at Smith. Head of the concern in thirteen years. Pushed over the heads of men who have spent their life in the plant, who know more about the business in a week than he does in a year. Isn't that favoritism? An indignant young friend, still one of the "bossed," asked me the other day, "It may be favoritism, but I doubt it. Smith heads a big business. He started thirteen years ago as an office boy; now he is 'bossing' those who used to 'boss' him."

I don't know Smith but I do know something about the business. It is a great big concern, with a great, wonderfully intricate organization. To run it requires judgment, a rare faculty for handling men, and an intimate knowledge of thousands of details.

The men who own it have millions invested. They want to conserve and increase their investment if they can. And I hardly think that favoritism would play any part in their choice.

The man who hates to be bossed has a remedy. He can learn to boss himself. The reason some men have bosses is obvious. They need someone to watch and direct them.

The man who is boss learned to watch and direct himself. He became his own boss before he became the boss of other men. Every man has his choice between two bosses, himself or somebody else. If he chooses himself, he is his own boss. If he chooses somebody else, he is bossed.

I think that is the lesson Smith learned. I imagine he is boss because he has earned the right. The man who is boss has been his own boss. He has earned the right. The man who is boss has been his own boss. He has earned the right.

In fact I rather think Smith bossed himself into his boss-ship, don't you?

Heart to Heart Talks

BY CHARLES N. LORIE

OIL THAT WON'T BURN.

Spreading oil on angry waters is good—but it must be oil that soothes, not oil that irritates.

Suppose, for instance, that you are called upon to still the angry waters of dispute between two persons who do not know better than to get themselves into a quarrel. If you assume the blessed office of peacemaker, see to it that you do not add fuel to the fire.

Otherwise the last state of the dispute is worse than the first and neither you nor the disputants have gained anything.

There was a great disaster at sea. The Volturo, a ship bearing hundreds of persons, caught fire. A storm raged. Men and women and children were drowned in attempting to leave the ship before help came. Men of the crew met death in the fire filled holds. The ship burned fiercely.

Success came in time to save hundreds. Among the rescuing vessels was the Narragansett, with a cargo of oil, which it spread on the waves, soothing them so that its own boats and those of other ships could approach the burning steamship and take off the imperiled passengers and crew. This was done while the Volturo still burned.

Now, suppose the oil which the tank steamer spread on the waves had been fuel oil. Touching the red-hot sides of the Volturo, it would have ignited and would have added frightfully to the peril.

Probably no one could have left the ship at all, and the danger would have spread to the surrounding fleet.

But it was lubricating oil of high ignition point that was used.

That is the kind that is needed in stilling other storms than those of the sea—lubricating oil of high ignition point—oil of quiet and patience, oil that spreads itself on the tops of the billows and brings peace. It must be of the sort that will not burn readily.

Truly a man or woman given up to wrath may be likened to a burning ship with a cargo of precious goods and a ship list of valuable lives in peril.

There is danger of total loss of ship and contents unless the lubricating oil of conciliation be used.

Imagine yourself speeding to the rescue of such a person. See that you get to the scene of distress in time, and when you do, be generous, as was the Narragansett, in the case of the Volturo, in pouring the oil of peace on the troubled waves.

Women Worth While

MRS. EDWARD BEALE MCLEAN.

By Selene Armstrong Harmon. Mrs. Edward Beale McLean is mistress of one of the largest fortunes in America. Yet she is probably the only young matron in the smart set of Washington and Newport who prefers to dispense with the services of a housekeeper and to administer the practical details of household affairs herself.

She voluntarily assumes the labor involved in keeping servants and the planning, even to the most minute detail of all her own entertainments. The average American woman who reads this will know the control of a large number of servants. Mrs. McLean was asked once why she did not get a housekeeper.

"Because," she answered, "I have not yet been able to find one who will be as good to our servants as we are."

The answer showed a kindness of heart for which this young matron is known, and which has done much to eliminate in her home the servant problem that is the bugaboo of many of America's rich women.

The old cook who serves Mr. and Mrs. McLean at present was in the service of the former's grandmother forty years ago, and later of her mother.

Mrs. McLean owns some of the most valuable jewels in America. Among her collection is the famous Hope diamond which has had a fascinating history, and which for several generations past has carried with it a superstition of bad luck.

May Yohe, who at eighteen was one of the most beautiful women on the American stage, and who became Lady Francis Hope, to this day believes that the Hope diamond brought her misfortune and was in some occult way connected with her domestic unhappiness.

That Mrs. McLean is not superstitious is proven by the fact that she often wears the stone. Circular in shape and more than an inch in diameter, its facets emit a lustrous light in ever changing tones of blue. It is surrounded with white diamonds the size of a small pea, and is suspended from a diamond chain set with the same white stones.

Mrs. McLean also owns a 98 carat white diamond, said to be the second or third largest in the world. Surrounding it is a band of diamonds, it is one of the most valuable hair ornaments in all Christendom. Another unique treasure in her possession is a cigarette case studded solidly with diamonds with her monogram done in emeralds. The only duplicate of this existence is owned by the queen of Spain.

It goes without saying, however, that the greatest treasure in the possession of the McLeans is their young son, Vinson Walsh. The little lad is four years old and is the idol of his parents. Since his babyhood Mr. and Mrs. McLean have given for him each Christmas a wonderful tree which supplies his little friends with all sorts of marvelous electrical toys.

On the day after Christmas they give a tree in Vinson's name for 150 children of a colored orphan asylum in Washington. Last year this tree held sweaters, dolls, roller skates, Indian and cowboy suits, and goodies of all sorts.

The little McLean boy is, like his parents, devoted to animals and in the suite of rooms occupied by him there is a great cage filled with birds. Among his father's pets are birds from Africa and South America and some fine dogs.

At Black Donut Farm, the Newport place which the McLeans will occupy for part of the coming season, they keep fifteen dogs. Mr. McLean and his mounts have won many blue ribbons at various horse shows all over the country. They usually keep a string of from twenty to forty horses, in which Mrs. McLean is every bit as interested as her husband.

There has always been a tendency on the part of saints, philosophers and excitable people generally to feel sure that what is wrong with the world is ignorance—that if only people might be induced to listen they could not but incline their hearts to the attractions of manifest righteousness.

Household Hints

THINGS WORTH KNOWING. Bread will keep better in a wooden box than in tin. Put one tablespoon of carbonate of soda in the water in which cabbage is boiled. It preserves the color and lessens the unpleasant odor while boiling. When putting raisins, dates or figs through the food grinder add a few drops of lemon juice to prevent the fruit from clogging the chopper.

THE TABLE. Steamed Brown Bread—Mix one and one-quarter cups of corn-meal, one cup of wheat meal or graham and three-quarters cup of rye flour, and level teaspoonful of soda and one-half level teaspoonful of salt. Stir twice, then stir in two-thirds cup of molasses and two cups of sour milk. Heat and pour into a buttered mold and steam four hours. Grape White—One cup of grape juice, one tablespoonful of granulated gelatin. Soak the gelatin in two tablespoonfuls of cold water, then dissolve in one-half cup of boiling water; add the grape juice and set aside until cool. Then place bowl in a pan of ice water and beat until light and almost stiff, then pour into a large bowl or ice cream glasses.

Lemon Meringue Pie—One cup of flour and salt into a bowl, rub in the quarter teaspoonful of salt. Sift the flour and salt into a bowl, rub in the lard lightly with the tips of the fingers; add just enough cold water to hold together. Roll out on a

DEALERS IN EFFORT TO BANISH HYBRIDS

Southern Wisconsin Tobacco Men
Start Campaign to Encourage
Use of Pure Havana
Seed.

In a protest against the use of tobacco seed of the various hybrid varieties, the tobacco dealers of the southern part of the state have started a campaign to encourage the growing of pure Havana seed. The opening of the season for the growing of tobacco is given below:

"It is a deplorable fact that the dealers in Wisconsin tobacco are finding more damage during the past few years in the weeding process than was known in previous years, and a great many theories are advanced as to the cause. It is universally conceded that sprinkling the tobacco with snow or water will cause must, but there are many crops that are stripped in proper condition that damage very badly.

"I find one theory that every dealer agrees upon and that is that the so-called hybrid tobacco seed damages more than any pure bred Havana seed, and it is the desire of the dealers that all tobacco growers be warned against planting this variety. As the hybrid is sold under many other names, such as the silver leaf, the Norway seed, etc., etc., it is very important the grower get the best Havana seed.

"We, the undersigned, dealers of Wisconsin leaf tobacco, urge all growers to get the best Havana seed for 1914 crop, as the hybrid must be banished.

WERE HAPPILY SURPRISED ON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Cooksville, April 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Robertson were very happily surprised last Tuesday when their friends came at dinner time with well filled baskets to dine with them. It was their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary and not an agreeable day out of doors.

The house was well filled with a jolly crowd and a sumptuous dinner was soon on the tables. After dinner music and cards were played until time to go home.

The presents were very nice and a goodly number. Mrs. Will Axford gave a heavy spoon, her son, Harry, gave a butter knife. Little Ralph Wardman from Racine sent a pickle fork; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennick, from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, sent a beautiful sandwich basket.

Mrs. Elsie and two daughters, Mrs. White and Mrs. Marwin, three dessert spoons; the Cooksville friends gave nine teaspoons. Jack's sister also gave each a fine ring. In the evening the young people surprised them and left a substantial remembrance.

Cards in one room and dancing in another filled the time into the "we small hours," with an excellent supper at twelve.

Friends from Madison, Stoughton and Evansville and Janesville came all the way in the mud and rain to do honor to the occasion.

This is the third silver wedding to be celebrated in this house. The first was the late B. S. Exile and wife some forty-five years ago. They invited friends to a party in the evening and the friends surprised them with a beautiful set of dishes. They have both passed over the river years ago. The second one was Julius Sayre and wife, in October, 1893. They invited a few friends to the friends and in the evening all the friends surprised them, leaving many beautiful gifts. He went home in January, 1905, leaving his wife. And now may this couple live to a good old age and celebrate their golden wedding, and may "we be there to see."

Information.
The length of time the earth is turning on its axis is called a day. At the equator the days and nights are always 12 hours long. The farther a point lies from the equator the longer are its longest days and longest nights. At the poles the year is made up of one day and one night, each six months long. All places in about 66½ degrees of latitude north or south have one day in the year 24 hours long and one night of equal length.

STOP, MOTHER! IT'S CRUEL TO FORCE OIL OR CALOMEL INTO SICK CHILD'S STOMACH

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels. Children love it.

Remember at your childhood days. Look back the "physic" that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender "littles" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing give "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow. It should be the first remedy given as it always does good, never any harm.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.
